Get Your Food Truck Rolling

Food trucks are a rapidly growing and prominent industry in the Columbus community, as well as in major cities across the nation. From afar, the food truck life looks exhilarating and enjoyable - attending concerts, festivals and sporting events. But not everything is the way it seems. Explore a day in life of a food truck owner, learn what goes into starting and owning a food truck, day-to-day operations, administrative needs, business demands and the pros and cons from the owners of Kinetic. If you have any dietary restrictions and food allergies, please contact Carla Doty at the time of registration: cdoty@dublin.oh.us or 614.410.4571. Ages: 18 & up

About Get Your Food Truck Rolling Instructors Andy O'Brien and Andrew Tuchow

Hilliard, OH. He is a recent graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University where he studied neuroscience and psychology. His passion for people and naturally friendly demeanor are reflected in his ability to manage, coordinate and lead others towards positive outcomes. While Andrew strongly considered a career in medicine, he discovered that healthy eating is a powerful preventative medicine that is being grossly underutilized. With his background in the hard sciences and his innate knowledge of behavior, Andrew applies these skills towards the growth of Kinetic.

Andy O'Brien (above right, below left) is cofounder and Team Captain for Kinetic from Dublin, OH. He is a recent graduate of The Ohio State University where he studied food science and business. He has always dreamed of owning his own restaurant and his impressive work history reflects this. Andy has worked at Heritage Golf Club as a cook for the 5 years leading up to this venture, at Wendy's headquarters in their Sensory Lab, and more recently had a brief stint as a cook on a locally-famous food truck, Mojo Tago. Andy is not only passionate about food, but also philanthropy. Pelotonia is specifically close to Andy's heart, where he has completed the 180 miles ride on multiple occasions while raising over $8,000 for cancer research. As a result of this connection, Kinetic continues to donate to Pelotonia and the goal to end cancer.
