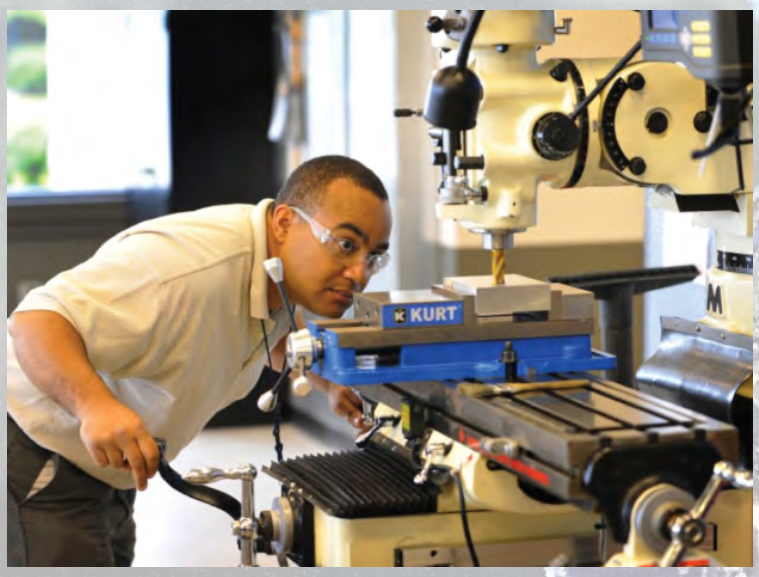
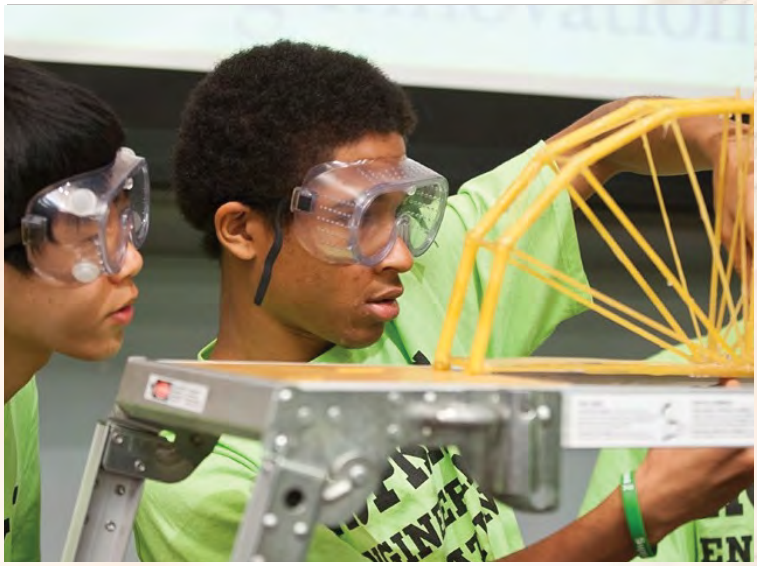
Create

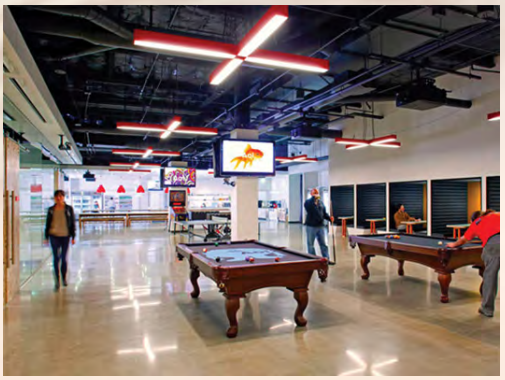
The West Innovation District will attract makers and artists from the region with its academic offerings, programs and start up incubation spaces. Some of these innovators will become entrepreneurs that will create a loop of innovation for the area.



Learn

With Ohio University, Columbus State Community College, and a STEM high school/middle school, the West Innovation District is poised to be a place of interdisciplinary learning that fosters an environment of innovation and progress.





The West Innovation District will be a place that inspires young inquisitive minds to pursue science and mathematics. Here young students will be exposed to professors, innovative companies and seasoned professionals who can encourage and challenge them.

Inspire
