Re: Tobacco 21 Legislation Discussion

BACKGROUND

Council recently heard a presentation regarding local efforts to increase the age-of-sale for tobacco products from eighteen years old to twenty-one years old. This movement, commonly known as “Tobacco-21,” has spread across the country in recent years as over 200 municipalities, as well as the states of Hawaii and California, have passed legislation to limit the sale of tobacco products to individuals over twenty-one. In Ohio, six cities have adopted Tobacco-21 legislation since 2015, most recently including the City of Columbus in December of 2016. Additionally, Upper Arlington, Bexley, Grandview Heights, and New Albany have adopted Tobacco-21 ordinances.

Council has been given this cover memo and a draft ordinance for purposes of further discussion. These materials were provided for the March 13 Council packet so that Council could fully consider its options and provide direction at its April 10 meeting.

The draft Tobacco-21 ordinance provided draws upon the others to create an effective and enforceable measure. The features include:

- Confronting tobacco at its source by focusing on the entity selling to persons under 21.
- Creating a distinct violation for sales to persons between 18 and 21, rather than having the same prohibition apply to children and persons 18–21.
  - This avoids inadvertent conflict with state law with respect to the provisions applicable to children.

Council may notice that, unlike Columbus’s recent Tobacco-21 ordinance, this draft does not propose creation of a new licensing system for the City of Dublin. This is due partially to concerns related to the staffing resources necessary to administer such a system. Columbus has a health department with staff equipped to administer its system, while Dublin does not have comparable capacity. Additionally, if challenged, the licensing system could be vulnerable to invalidation on state preemption grounds. These issues are described more fully in the remainder of the memo.

LAW AND ANALYSIS

Ohio municipalities have authority to adopt Tobacco-21 ordinances as a matter of municipal home-rule. The Home Rule Amendment to the Ohio Constitution gives municipalities authority to “adopt and enforce within their limits such local police, sanitary and other similar regulations, as are not in conflict with general laws.” A municipal ordinance only conflicts with a general law where it permits what the state’s general law forbids, or forbids what the state’s general law permits. See, e.g., Middleburg Hts. v. Ohio Bd. of Bldg. Standards, 65 Ohio St.3d 510, 513, 605 N.E.2d 66 (1992), citing Struthers v. Sokol, 108 Ohio St. 263, 140 N.E. 519 (1923).

Ohio law prohibits the sale of tobacco products to persons under the age of eighteen. O.R.C. § 2927.02. The State requires that any wholesaler or retailer of cigarettes obtain a license for that activity from the county auditor under procedures established by state law. O.R.C. § 5743.15. The county auditor must issue the retail license to the applicant upon receipt of a completed application and presentation of proof of payment of the license fee to the county treasurer. O.R.C. § 5743.15(B)(2). The statute and rules providing for the retail cigarette license does not state that the license permits sale to anyone over the age of eighteen. Therefore, because sale to anyone over eighteen is not expressly permitted by Ohio law, municipalities may use their home-rule authority to raise the minimum age of sale.

1. Penalties for Violation: Criminal prosecution, including potential jail time, vs. civil enforcement.

Violation of the State’s law against sale or distribution of tobacco products to minors (anyone under eighteen) is a fourth-degree misdemeanor for a first offense, and a third-degree misdemeanor for subsequent offenses. The potential penalties for a fourth-degree misdemeanor are a fine up to $250 and up to thirty days in jail, while the potential penalties for a third-degree misdemeanor are a fine up to $500 and up to sixty days in jail. O.R.C. §§ 2929.24; 2929.28.

Except for Upper Arlington (which makes violation an unclassified misdemeanor subject to increasing fines but includes no potential jail time) the other Central Ohio municipalities that have enacted Tobacco-21 ordinances have adopted fourth-degree misdemeanor and third-degree misdemeanor penalties for sale or distribution of tobacco products to persons under the age of twenty-one. All of the municipalities now limit the application to the vendor of the tobacco product, not to the under-21 person’s possession of the tobacco product. Cleveland, which has had a Tobacco-21 law in place since April 2016, follows suit. The approach of targeting the sale, rather than the possession, reflects the consensus approach for Tobacco-21 efforts nationwide.

All Tobacco-21 ordinances in Central Ohio address violations as a criminal matter, while Columbus has an additional retailer licensing component. Columbus is still in the education and licensing phase to set up enforcement of its ordinance, so active enforcement has not yet begun. Cleveland did not provide data regarding whether citations have been issued (the ordinance is administered by the city's health department). Grandview Heights police have confirmed that they have not issued citations for violations of Grandview Heights' ordinance. Likewise, neither Bexley, New Albany, nor Upper Arlington have had charges filed for non-compliance with their respective ordinances. These suburban cities each have only a small number of retailers who sell tobacco products (New Albany, for example, only has one tobacco retailer).

2. Enforcement through licensure and state preemption risk.

Columbus, with the most recent ordinance, has also imposed a local licensing system for cigarettes and other tobacco products, including e-cigarettes and chewing tobacco. Columbus's ordinance would prohibit retailers from selling or distributing these products without getting a valid license from the Columbus Board of Health, without reference to whether the retailer has a retail cigarette license provided under Ohio law. A retailer that violates the section by selling or distributing without a license is guilty of a first-degree misdemeanor (potential fine up to $1,000 and up to 180 days in jail). A repeat violator can be prohibited from obtaining a local license for up to five years. All fines collected under this section are to be deposited into a "Tobacco Enforcement and Education Fund" maintained by Columbus.

One concern with creating a licensing system for Dublin is that it requires staff resources for tracking and enforcement. Columbus has a health department with staff; Dublin does not. For this reason, the licensing system advanced by Columbus may not be a practical approach for each municipality, including Dublin.

Although Columbus's licensing section is a creative method to obtain compliance with the Tobacco-21 ordinance, by identifying tobacco retailers in the jurisdiction and seeking to fund enforcement activities, it risks invalidation if challenged. The Ohio Supreme Court has invalidated a similar local licensing system for private investigators in Ohio Assn. of Private Detective Agencies, Inc. v. N. Olmsted, 65 Ohio St.3d 242, 602 N.E.2d 1147 (1992). There, the city attempted to exact a $15.00 registration fee from any private investigator practicing within the city. State law stated that no fees would be charged by the state or any political subdivision for conducting a private investigation business. Id. at 243. The court stated that "inasmuch as the local ordinance restricts an activity which a state license permits, the ordinance is in conflict with a general law of the state and violates" the Home Rule Amendment. Id. at 245. The court had also reached a similar conclusion in Westlake v. Mascot Petroleum Co., 61 Ohio St.3d 161, 573 N.E.2d 1068 (1991) when it invalidated a zoning ordinance that prohibited liquor establishments that had valid permits from the Ohio Department of Liquor Control. More recent rulings have reaffirmed that municipalities cannot, through local licensing ordinances, prohibit activities permitted by state permits. See State ex rel. Morrison v. Beck Energy Corp., 143 Ohio St.3d 271, 2015-Ohio-485, 37 N.E.3d 128, ¶¶26–27. Based on the authorities mentioned above, a local licensing system is vulnerable to challenge.

CONCLUSION

Staff recommends that Council consider a motion directing staff to prepare an ordinance based on the enclosed suggested draft ordinance to increase the age-of-sale for tobacco products from eighteen years old to twenty-one years old.

TO PROHIBIT THE SALE OR OTHER DISTRIBUTION OF CIGARETTES, OTHER TOBACCO PRODUCTS, OR ALTERNATIVE NICOTINE PRODUCTS
TO PERSONS UNDER 21 YEARS OLD.

WHEREAS, every year tobacco products lead to the deaths of nearly one-half million Americans and drain more than $268 billion in directly related healthcare and lost productivity costs; and

WHEREAS, nearly all adult smokers began smoking before the age of 18, while very few smokers start smoking after the age of 21, according to a 2015 white paper published by The Ohio State University College of Public Health; and

WHEREAS, studies have shown that many children under the age of 18 who smoke obtain their cigarettes from acquaintances who are 18-20; and

WHEREAS, to date, over 200 communities across the United States, as well as the States of Hawaii and California, have passed legislation to raise the minimum age for tobacco sales to 21 years old; and

WHEREAS, since 2015, six municipalities in the State of Ohio have adopted ordinances increasing the age for tobacco sales to 21 years old; and

WHEREAS, raising the age for tobacco sales in the City of Dublin would lessen the accessibility of tobacco to minors and further the City's interest in furthering the health, safety, and general welfare of the residents of the City of Dublin;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the City of Dublin, Delaware, Franklin, and Union Counties, State of Ohio, _____ of the elected members concurring that:

(b) If the information deciphered by the transaction scan performed under division (B)(2)(a) of this section fails to match the information printed on the driver's or commercial driver's license or identification card presented by the card holder, or if the transaction scan indicates that the information so printed is false or fraudulent, neither the seller nor any agent or employee of the seller shall sell, give away, or otherwise distribute any cigarettes, other tobacco products, or alternative nicotine products to the card holder.

(c) Division (B)(2)(a) of this section does not preclude a seller or an agent or employee of a seller from using a transaction scan device to check the validity of a document other than a driver's or commercial driver's license or identification card, if the document includes a bar code or magnetic strip that may be scanned by the device, as a condition for selling, giving away, or otherwise distributing cigarettes, other tobacco products, or alternative nicotine products to the person presenting the document.

(3) Rules adopted by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles under R.C. § 4301.61(C) apply to the use of transaction scan devices for purposes of this division (B) and division (C) of this section.

(4) (a) No seller or agent or employee of a seller shall electronically or mechanically record or maintain any information derived from a transaction scan, except for the following:

1. The name and date of birth of the person listed on the driver's or commercial driver's license or identification card presented by the card holder;

2. The expiration date and identification number of the driver's or commercial driver's license or identification card presented by the card holder.

(b) No seller or agent or employee of a seller shall use the information that is derived from a transaction scan or that is permitted to be recorded and maintained under division (B)(4)(a) of this section, except for purposes of division (C) of this section.

(c) No seller or agent or employee of a seller shall use a transaction scan device for a purpose other than the purpose specified in division (C)(2)(a) of this section.

(d) No seller or agent or employee of a seller shall sell or otherwise disseminate the information derived from a transaction scan to any third party, including but not limited to selling or otherwise disseminating that information for any marketing, advertising, or promotional activities, but a seller or agent or employee of a seller may release that information pursuant to a court order or as specifically authorized by division (C) of this section or another section of this code or the Ohio Revised Code.

(5) Nothing in this division (B) or division (C) of this section relieves a seller or an agent or employee of a seller of any responsibility to comply with any other applicable local, state or federal laws or rules governing the sale, giving away, or other distribution of cigarettes, other tobacco products, or alternative nicotine products.

(6) Whoever violates division (B)(2)(b) or (B)(4) of this section is guilty of engaging in an illegal tobacco product or alternative nicotine product transaction scan, and the court may impose upon the offender a civil penalty of up to $1,000 for each violation. (C) Affirmative defenses.

(1) A seller or an agent or employee of a seller may not be found guilty of a charge of a violation of division (A) of this section in which the age of the purchaser or other recipient of cigarettes, other tobacco products, or alternative nicotine products is an element of the alleged violation, if the seller, agent, or employee raises and proves as an affirmative defense that all of the following occurred:

(a) A card holder attempting to purchase or receive cigarettes, other tobacco products, or alternative nicotine products presented a driver's or commercial driver's license or an identification card.

(b) A transaction scan of the driver's or commercial driver's license or identification card that the card holder presented indicated that the license or card was valid.

(c) The cigarettes, other tobacco products, or alternative nicotine products were sold, given away, or otherwise distributed to the card holder in reasonable reliance upon the identification presented and the completed transaction scan.

(2) In determining whether a seller or an agent or employee of a seller has proven the affirmative defense provided by division (C)(1) of this section, the trier of fact in the action for the alleged violation of division (A) of this section shall consider any written policy that the seller has adopted and implemented and that is intended to prevent violations of division (A) of this section. For purposes of division (C)(1)(c) of this section, the trier of fact shall consider that reasonable reliance upon the identification presented and the completed transaction scan may require a seller or an agent or employee of a seller to exercise reasonable diligence to determine, and that the use of a transaction scan device does not excuse a seller or an agent or employee of a seller from exercising reasonable diligence to determine, the following:

(a) Whether a person to whom the seller or agent or employee of a seller sells, gives away, or otherwise distributes cigarettes, other tobacco products, or alternative nicotine products is ~~18~~ 21 years of age or older;

(b) Whether the description and picture appearing on the driver's or commercial driver's license or identification card presented by a card holder is that of the card holder.

(3) In any criminal action in which the affirmative defense provided by division (C)(1) of this section is raised, the Registrar of Motor Vehicles or a deputy registrar who issued an identification card under R.C. §§ 4507.50 through 4507.52 shall be permitted to submit certified copies of the records of that issuance in lieu of the testimony of the personnel of or contractors with the Bureau of Motor Vehicles in the action.

(D) Shipment of tobacco products.

(1) As used in this division (D):

AUTHORIZED RECIPIENT OF TOBACCO PRODUCTS means a person who is:

1. Licensed as a cigarette wholesale dealer under R.C. § 5743.15;
2. Licensed as a retail dealer as long as the person purchases cigarettes with the appropriate tax stamp affixed;
3. An export warehouse proprietor as defined in Section 5702 of the Internal Revenue Code;

6. A department, agency, instrumentality, or political subdivision of the federal government or of this state;
7. A person having a consent for consumer shipment issued by the Tax Commissioner under R.C. § 5743.71.

MOTOR CARRIER. Has the same meaning as in R.C. § 4923.01.

(2) The purpose of this division (D) is to prevent the sale of cigarettes to minors and to ensure compliance with the Master Settlement Agreement, as defined in R.C. § 1346.01, and to prevent the sale of cigarettes and other tobacco products to persons under 21.

(3) (a) No person shall cause to be shipped any cigarettes to any person in this municipality other than an authorized recipient of tobacco products.

(b) No motor carrier or other person shall knowingly transport cigarettes to any person in this municipality that the carrier or other person reasonably believes is not an authorized recipient of tobacco products. If cigarettes are transported to a home or residence, it shall be presumed that the motor carrier or other person knew that the person to whom the cigarettes were delivered was not an authorized recipient of tobacco products.

(4) No person engaged in the business of selling cigarettes who ships or causes to be shipped cigarettes to any person in this municipality in any container or wrapping other than the original container or wrapping of the cigarettes shall fail to plainly and visibly mark the exterior of the container or wrapping in which the cigarettes are shipped with the words "cigarettes".

(5) A court shall impose a fine of up to $1,000 for each violation of division (D)(3)(a), (D)(3)(b) or (D)(4) of this section.

Section 2. That the provisions of this Ordinance and Section 135.17 of the Dublin Codified Ordinances are severable, and if any is found to be invalid for any reason by a court of competent jurisdiction then the remainder shall remain in full force and effect.

Section 3. The Council finds that all deliberations and actions of the public body relating to this Ordinance were taken in an open meeting in compliance with Section 121.22 of the Ohio Revised Code.
