Re: DORA Pilot Review follow-up

Background

City Council approved the Dublin Downtown Designated Outdoor Refreshment Area (DORA) in the spring of 2021 as a pilot program until August 30, 2021. At the August 30 meeting, Council members directed staff to report back with more information on the following items:

- Recycling and composting currently in DORA districts
- Additional breakdown of feedback from residents surrounding the DORA
- A detailed analysis of the cost of the DORA
- Further discussion regarding the hours of the DORA with suggested times

There was also some confusion about the DORA timeline. To provide a historical perspective, below is the timeline of the implementation of the DORA project:

June 2020	First information and request to pursue DORA
July 2020	Information and Sample application presented to Council, Council request to revisit in early 2021
March 2021	Presentation to Council on DORA with information/timeline
April 2021	DORA Resolution approved by Council
May 2021	Implementation
June 2021	Mid-point memo provided to Council in City Manager Update; A copy of the midpoint memo is provided as an attachment.
August 2021	End of Pilot

Summary

In order to address issues of sustainability, staff has reviewed the current trash and recycling cans in Downtown Dublin. Staff has created a map of all trash receptacles in Downtown Dublin, and this information can be viewed at this link:

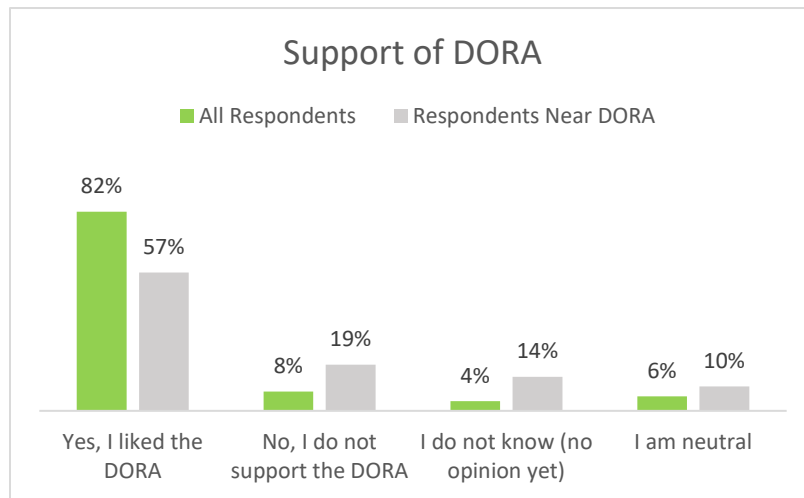

<https://dublinohio.maps.arcgis.com/apps/instant/interactivelegend/index.html?appid=d09499aac9a3469fab619d0ac630adfc>

The map also shows where the composting receptacles will be placed when they are received. In addition, staff is working with Crawford Hoying regarding placing recycling containers in Bridge Park and will continue to work with Crawford Hoying on this effort. Although staff is still working to find a source for compostable cups, a shipment of non-compostable cups has been received.

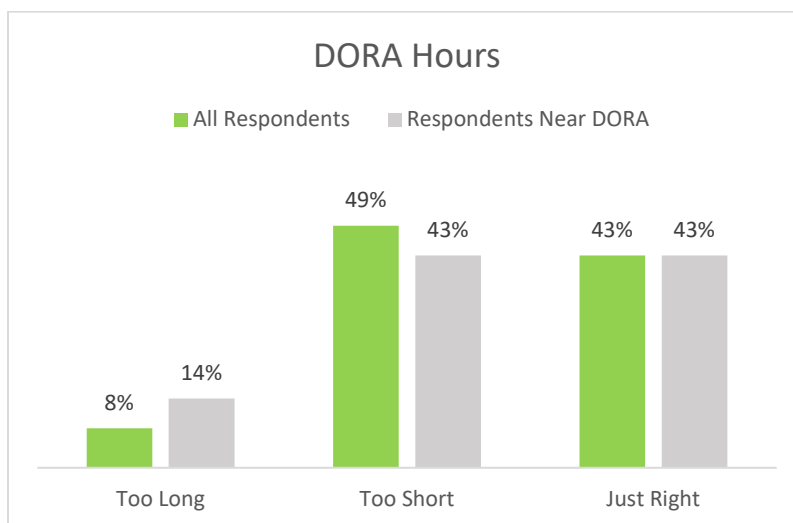

Surrounding Resident Feedback

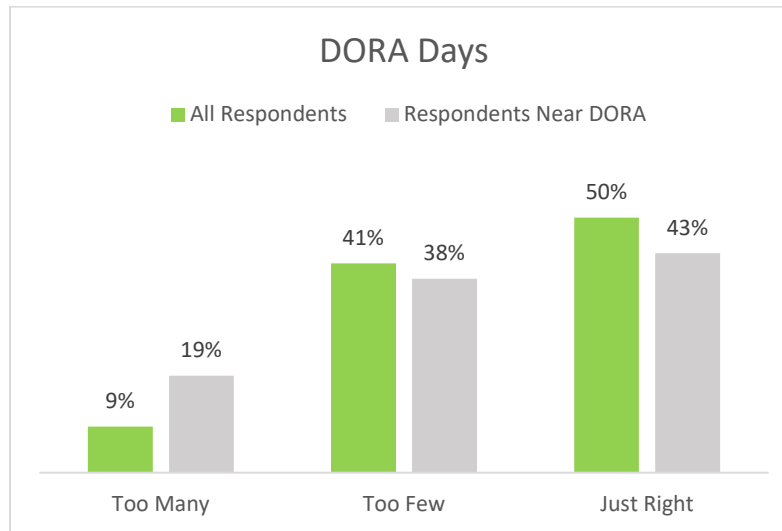

At the August 30 Council meeting, Council members asked about the breakdown of respondents to the survey, particularly regarding residents of the area surrounding the DORA. Approximately 7 percent of the total responses were from people who self-identified as living in the neighborhoods surrounding the DORA. The residency question did not require an answer, and more than a third of respondents did not provide an answer.

Results show less overall support for the DORA among respondents near the DORA than in the general public, but the majority is still supportive of the DORA.

Similarly, the support for expanding days and times was not as strong among residents surrounding the DORA as in the general population, but those opposed were still in the minority.

Cost of DORA

Staff performed a cost analysis (attached) of the DORA, including the fully burdened costs associated with employee time. Reflected in this cost analysis are the non-recurring start-up costs associated with the pilot, the per cup costs for the pilot timeframe, and the estimated costs for ongoing DORA operations. Additionally, several enhancements to the DORA regarding sustainability are planned. While cost estimates for those activities are not yet available, they are documented in this analysis as future costs to be included in the analysis.

This cost analysis is preliminary as it only captures three months' worth of data during a pandemic where shortages were impacting operations. Additionally, many aspects of the DORA will be changing, including compostable cups and the necessary infrastructure to support composting that will have an impact on cup unit prices. In order to capture these changes, the City's Annual Cost of City Services Study will include the analysis of DORA cups moving forward. This will ensure these prices are regularly monitored and updated.

The attached cost analysis shows that during the DORA Pilot Program phase, additional staff time was necessary in all aspects of the program. The result is a per cup price of $0.51. Moving forward, less staff time is estimated to be dedicated to the operation of the DORA, reducing the per cup cost to $0.25.

Recommendation

At the August 30 meeting, Council voted to continue the DORA pilot throughout the year. Staff is also recommending making the following changes:

Change in Days/Times

Staff recommends the following changes to days/hours based on feedback heard from Council members at the August meeting. Council can approve this through a simple motion:

Opening Times

Monday – Friday	4 p.m.
Saturday/Sunday	1 p.m.

Closing Times

Sunday – Wednesday 8 p.m.
Thursday – Saturday 10 p.m.

Below is the chart that shows current and proposed hours by day with changes shown in green:

	Current Hours	Proposed Extended Hours
Monday/Tue/Wed	None	4 p.m. – 8 p.m.
Thursday/Friday	5 p.m. - 10 p.m.	4 p.m. – 10 p.m.
Saturday	5 p.m. - 10 p.m.	1 p.m. – 10 p.m.
Sunday	None	1 p.m. – 8 p.m.

Cost for cups

Staff recommends increasing the cost from 10 cents to 25 cents per cup. Staff recommends re-evaluating this cost when additional services such as compostable cups are permanently available and to evaluate the cost for cups annually as part of the Cost of City Services ordinance.

The DORA days (Thursdays through Saturdays) in downtown Dublin are	The DORA hours (5 to 10 p.m.) in downtown Dublin are	Share any compliments, suggestions or concerns you have regarding the downtown Dublin DORA
Bridge park	No, I do not support the Downtown Dublin DORA	Too many	Too long	It's already really loud From 12an M to 2am with people shouting and being loud don't want this to happen more often with more people. It's going to create more noise late at night. I get migraines from how loud it is and it's already noisy enough. I don't mind if it's noisy till 10 but it's going to keep people out late past 10 being noisy. I want to move out of here
Bridge Park	Yes, I liked the DORA	Too few	Too short	There is a note about approving additional hours for special events- I don't know the contact but I feel that having DORA during the Dublin Market on Saturdays would be an addition that makes sense.
Bridge Park	No, I do not support the Downtown Dublin DORA	Too many	Too long	This survey is so silly. Who came up with this? Our city needs a survey to focus on noise reduction and reckless driving in Downtown Dublin and Bridge Park District and survey residents on safety and quality of living rather than a survey about concessions. I am a Bridge Park resident and nightly starting around 7pm there is drag racing through downtown Dublin and Bridge Park streets and high speed/tire squealing through public parking garages (library). It goes throughout the night waking myself and neighbors, which includes hard working professionals and families with school-age children. So rather than ask Dublin residents what they think about walking streets with booze in hand (which is always going to be a resounding yes)- survey residents' opinions on safety and livability in Downtown Dublin and Bridge Park. That is the survey that will give back to the City.
Bridge park	Yes, I liked the DORA	Too few	Too short	Wish the DORA extended to earlier!
Bridge Park	Yes, I liked the DORA	Just right	Just right
Bridge park	No, I do not support the Downtown Dublin DORA	Too many	Just right	I was against this Dora from the beginning. I pay too much rent to deal with drunk people constantly going beyond the boundaries. The new one is people walking across the bridge with drinks. Clearly says not to and people still do it. I have watched Dublin police walk right by people and not say a thing so of course everyone thinks it's ok to do. I can not wait to move out of Dublin. Worst decision thinking that was clearly led by Crawford.
Bridge Park	I do not know (I haven't formed my opinion yet)	Just right	Just right	People are leaving DORA cups and trash outside my home and in our reserved areas of the parking garage, including on the cars. Trash which residents are then expected to remove before driving their own car. People are congregating and having sex in the parking garages even in broad daylight. This needs to be monitored. There are children in my building including my own. Thank you.
Bridge Park	Yes, I liked the DORA	Too few	Too short	I think DORA is a great opportunity for residents/visitors and businesses. On weekends I think it'd be nice to start DORA a little earlier. One suggestion would be to consider a more sustainable approach for the plastic cups. Is there something that is biodegradable or reusable that could be used? I understand cost would need to be considered. Or more recycling bins?
Bridge Park	Yes, I liked the DORA	Just right	Too short	The boundaries could be more clear but weren't an issue. Would recommend starting the DORA earlier on Saturdays and extending it to Sunday as well.

il live, literally, next door to d	Yes, I liked the DORA	Just right	Just right
Bridgepark	I do not know (I haven't formed my opinion yet)	Too few	Just right
Bridge Park	Yes, I liked the DORA	Just right	Too short	I think having the Dublin Link being available for DORA would make it much more reasonable and functional. Now, if you're on the bridge park side, there's not very much walking area or seating area to allow time to get even close to finishing your drink, so it makes it kind of awkward. I think if there was a chance to explore both sides it would allow the cool feature to be used
Bridgepark	I am neutral on Dublin having a DORA	Just right	Just right	Using green signs to indicate that a Dora zone is ending makes absolutely no sense. Green means go not stop, signage should be red. Further, these boundaries are not enforced and numerous people are taking alcohol over the bridge. The fact that something as serious as where alcohol can be consumed is not taken seriously by Dublin police or city council shows how little they actually care about enforcing local laws, and is the reason there is an increase of rowdy teenagers in areas where they shouldn't be, as well as dangerous driving in the area. Don't have rules you're not going to enforce its make city council and the police look stupid.
Greystone Mews	I am neutral on Dublin having a DORA	Just right	Just right	I wish I could paste in a picture here. I see an official City of Dublin Facebook posting 6/10 5:07 PM which promotes a Lyft coupon. I interpret that post as the City of Dublin officially encouraging people to come drink in Dublin until they can no longer safely drive themselves home. The City should not be encouraging that aspect of the DORA. Dublin has so much potential in the Bridge District. The only people who benefit from the DORA are merchants who sell liquor. The bridge district is always busy, businesses don't need the added attraction of the ability to sell liquor to carry away to succeed. DORA border signage indicates to me that this is a behavior we don't want in our community, so why here? Who benefits how? Selling liquor at festivals and special events is acceptable, it does not need to be a way of life in Dublin. I'm not going to fight DORA, I also don't see the need for it.
Tuller Flats	No, I do not support the Downtown Dublin DORA	Too many	Too long	I noticed numerous violations of the DORA zone this weekend between Coffman Park and Bridge Park. Groups of individuals were walking and drinking beverages along Post Road heading westbound. I also witnessed instances of public urination along this road and another individual stumbling and vomiting close to the bridge over I270. I believe that the DORA is difficult to enforce and negatively impacts the safety and image of our community.
Waterford	Yes, I liked the DORA	Just right	Too short
Waterford Village	Yes, I liked the DORA	Too few	Just right	I love it! Occasionally I have been in the area on Tuesday or Wednesday night to meet friends and it would be nice to enjoy DORA then as well.
Waterford Village	Yes, I liked the DORA	Too few	Too short	Items for consideration: Start DORA at 3:00pm on Thursdays and Fridays. Happy hours begin between 3-4 in the area and this would line up with those hours. Cater to families who are usually out during the day by starting DORA at 11:00am on Saturdays and consider adding Sunday.

Mid-Centry	I am neutral on Dublin having a DORA	Too few	Too short	Expand to include the Link and the park to the west of Bridge Park and expand the hours or days. There's a total of 15 hours out of 72 available to enjoy this amenity to the community, and I feel as though most people who work a normal day job aren't going out on Thursday, won't go out on Friday until later in the evening only giving them few hours to participate. Saturday is arguably the only day that a normal, working class citizen of Dublin is able to utilize this.
Waterford	Yes, I liked the DORA	Just right	Just right	DORA seems rather pointless without outside night entertainment and especially not being able to cross over the bridge. There is not much to do to warrant having DORA.
Waterford Village	Yes, I liked the DORA	Too few	Too short

Re: DORA Pilot Review

Background

City Council approved the Dublin Downtown Designated Outdoor Refreshment Area (DORA) in the spring of 2021, and the DORA pilot has been operational since May 20, 2021. Staff has been gathering feedback and data during that time in order for City Council to have more information before discussing approving a more permanent DORA and any changes that should be made. Council can review, change, or dissolve the DORA at any time.

Over this summer, DORA districts in Central Ohio have continued to be approved and expanded. In July, Worthington expanded their DORA, and Westerville approved a new DORA. Columbus City Council approved a DORA in the Arena District, which should be operational in the fall.

Summary

Police Feedback

The Dublin Police Department dedicated additional staffing (five officers) to the DORA throughout the first five weeks of the pilot program. The department assigned two officers to each DORA (Historic Dublin and Bridge Park) and also a traffic officer to address any traffic related issues. The officers assigned to each DORA prioritized foot and bicycle patrol. The department also utilized the drone to assist in capturing footage of the pedestrian impact to the area. At the conclusion of the first five weeks of the DORA pilot, the department re-evaluated the dedicated staffing during the DORA hours and reduced the number of officers to two. These officers were used in an on-duty and overtime capacity, which incurred approximately $9,200 in overtime costs.

The focus for the officers assigned to the DORA is to ensure public safety through high visibility presence, to monitor DORA regulations/boundaries, and respond to calls for service in the area. This assisted in shorter response times and police intervention in order to provide safety measures to promote a sense of security for patrons of the Historic Dublin and Bridge Park district. Officers responded to over 90 calls for service in the Bridge Park and Historic Dublin area. When evaluating the data, only five of those calls may be related to the DORA pilot, and of those calls, none were significant or resulted in an arrest. Lastly, the activity of the officers assigned to the DORA highlights the benefit of having dedicated police staff to provide additional safety and security measures in the DORA's unique environment. Furthermore, it ensures patrons of the City's vibrant downtown district recognize that Dublin's Police Department is responsive to their needs and is present to ensure their safety.

Business Feedback

Staff has received positive responses from the business community in Downtown Dublin. The City recently received the attached letter of support from Visit Dublin and Crawford/Hoying. The letter echoes many of the comments the City has received from businesses, primarily asking for extension in days and hours for the DORA.

This sentiment was also reflected in the surveys, and there were frequent requests to include the Dublin Link Bridge in the area. There were 29 responses to the survey. Below are highlighted results from the survey, and the full results are attached.

Surveys also show that 83 percent of the businesses responding report that their sales were higher, and nearly all reported that the feedback from customers was all or mostly positive.

Patron Feedback

The patron survey has been available online since the start of the program and has been promoted 14 times on social media for residents and visitors alike to submit their feedback. The DORA survey message garnered 36,901 total impressions (or number of times the DORA survey message was viewed on social media). A more detailed social media report is attached. The survey has 142 responses, and 89 percent are Dublin residents. The full results are included in this packet.

The support from respondents has remained strongly positive, with 82 percent supportive and only 8 percent not supportive of the program.

The majority of the survey respondents (92 percent) felt that the days and times of the DORA were either just right or not long enough. Comments about the times did not indicate that people wanted them to go later in the evening; rather, patrons wanted hours extended earlier and on Saturday and Sundays during the day, with some questions about extending to the full week.

Other than extending the hours, the biggest comment was to extend the DORA area to include the Dublin Link Bridge, with 20 respondents asking for the extension.

Attached is a ZenCity Report that has also recorded positive feedback on social media stating, "This high level of continued positive engagement around the DORA suggests that it has been a very successful addition to the lives of Dublin Ohio residents."

Sustainability in Downtown Dublin

With the increase in activity due to the DORA and at the request of City Council, City staff is exploring opportunities to improve waste reduction efforts in downtown Dublin.

To understand what other communities are doing relative to their DORA efforts, staff spoke with representatives from the City of Hilliard and City of Bexley. Currently, Hilliard is only utilizing compostable cups once a week during their Thursday night concert series, encouraging patrons to dispose of them at one of the six compost cans located throughout their downtown area. Bexley is using compostable cups, in addition to compostable labels, for their DORA. Staff plans to follow-up with both communities in late fall to understand what adjustments they may be making to their program moving forward.

Crawford/Hoying is responsible for all refuse collection in Bridge Park. Currently there is only trash collection, no recycling or composting is available. In Historic Dublin, trash cans are placed by the City and serviced by Rumpke weekly along High Street. City staff collects trash and maintains the bins that are off the street. In these areas there are no recycling containers.

In Riverside Crossing Park, which includes both the east and west plazas, City staff have placed and maintain both trash and recycling containers. Composting bins have been ordered and are expected to arrive in approximately eight to ten weeks.

Approximately a third of the cups that were used in the DORA this summer were compostable, and retailers did not have any issues with compostable cups. Retailers were all informed that compostable cups needed to be stored in an area where the temperature was less than 108 degrees. Unfortunately, there is currently a nationwide shortage of cups. Currently, the best any supplier can promise staff is a 10-12 week turnaround for orders of compostable cups, with most manufacturers cancelling or not taking any new orders. It is staff's intention to move towards the exclusive use of compostable cups in the future. Additionally, staff will continue to explore opportunities to improve sustainability in Downtown Dublin.

There is a similar shortage in non-compostable cups, which has caused the cost of the cups to rise significantly and has caused the City to limit the number of cups the retailers can order at a given time. Limiting the number of cups available to order from the City is intended to ensure businesses are not stockpiling cups during the current shortage. At this time, it is staff's understanding that businesses are able to meet demand for DORA cups. Due to the nationwide shortage, staff is pursuing all avenues to obtain cups of any kind, whether compostable or not compostable.

Cost of DORA

The City's Finance Department performed a cost analysis of the DORA, including staffing. It is estimated that based on the cups already sold and the amount of staff time dedicated to the DORA, it costs the City an extra 20 cents per cup than what it is charging businesses, or $4,602 per month. This is just an estimate since the exact number of DORA cups used is unknown. Staff only knows the amount of cups the retailers have ordered, which is currently 72,750. As the program continues the costs will vary, but staff will have a clearer view of the actual costs on a monthly basis.

The cost of cups has been inconsistent due to supply issues. When originally ordered, plastic non-compostable cups were approximately 8 cents, and compostable were approximately 20 cents. Recent orders of non-compostable cups have increased to as much as 30 cents.

Recommendation

Staff recommends continuing the DORA as a year-round operation. While there may not be a lot of people taking part in the colder months, it helps eliminate confusion and allows patrons to take advantage of nice days that occur in the winter. Council would not need to take any action to allow this to happen.

In addition, staff recommends consideration of the following changes:

Change in Days/Times

Staff recommends the following changes to days/hours. Council can approve this through a simple motion:

	Current Hours	Proposed Extended Hours
Thursday/Friday	5 p.m. - 10 p.m.	4 p.m. – 10 p.m.
Saturday	5 p.m. - 10 p.m.	9 a.m. – 10 p.m.
Sunday	None	1 p.m. – 10 p.m.

Cost for cups

In order to recoup at least the cost of the cups, staff recommends increasing cost from 10 cents to 25 cents. Staff recommends re-evaluating this cost in early 2022 when cup supplies stabilize, and staff can get a more accurate cost of City services. The cost of city service may also increase with the recommended additional hours.

Extension of area

Staff is not recommending the expansion of the DORA to include the Dublin Link Bridge at this time. When the East Plazas of Riverside Crossing are opened, staff will bring the issue back to Council for discussion. In order to change the boundaries, a new application needs to be filed with the State of Ohio and could likely take six to eight weeks to resolve.

Informal surveys from Dublin restaurants and retail have indicated that sales have increased during DORA in the range of 15-50%. Although hard to quantify, foot traffic has dramatically increased in the area as well due to DORA which means more residents and visitors are experiencing Downtown Dublin for the first time. On a personal note, we've enjoyed DORA several times with other Dublin residents, many of whom would have preferred to visit Powell or Easton in the past. They are now staying in Dublin because DORA has helped opened their eyes to what they have in their own "backyard."

	Participating DORA business, serves 8 alcohol – restaurant & bar	Neutral	Yes, but only slightly	Very sporadic on sales, but I will say it was a very busy DORA for Irish Days with the extended hours. The bridge was built to connect the two sides as one, but not allowing people to stroll with a drink is creating a divide. No explanation has been given for the exclusion and it's very confusing to guests/consumers.

I also deal with current and past owners and I have not had any negative feedback, they all say "Its about time". The one thing I've been asked is why not go across the Pedestrian Bridge. So many patron walk the bridge in the evening and it doesn't make sense to not include it. You are more likely to fall off a bike or skate board than fall over the side with your drink.

It allows you to support the local establishments and then seek a quiet spot to share with friends outside or to stroll around. Europeans have had this as a model for years and it makes so much sense. As an introvert a crowded bar is not my jam— the option to support my favorite places and sit outside in a more relaxed setting is awesome.

I think as time progresses it'll be okay, but just something I noticed. Also, if you could have reusable cups, it would be beneficial to not have as much waste for the city. For Yellow Springs' street fair for example, they have a stainless steel cup that you can reuse for each fair. If you bring it back you get so much off your next purchase. More trash Receptacles too around the area would be useful as well.

24	Resident - live in Dublin	Greystone Mews	more than 3 times	I am neutral on Dublin having a DORA	Not Important	Yes, I was aware of the boundaries	Just right	Just right	Not Important	I did not notice the signs	I wish I could paste in a picture here. I see an official City of Dublin Facebook posting 6/10 5:07 PM which promotes a Lyft coupon. I interpret that post as the City of Dublin officially encouraging people to come drink in Dublin until they can no longer safely drive themselves home. The City should not be encouraging that aspect of the DORA. Dublin has so much potential in the Bridge District. The only people who benefit from the DORA are merchants who sell liquor. The bridge district is always busy, businesses don't need the added attraction of the ability to sell liquor to carry away to succeed. DORA border signage indicates to me that this is a behavior we don't want in our community, so why here? Who benefits how? Selling liquor at festivals and special events is acceptable, it does not need to be a way of life in Dublin. I'm not going to fight DORA, I also don't see the need for it.

Who came up with this? Our city needs a survey to focus on noise reduction and reckless driving in Downtown Dublin and Bridge Park District and survey residents on safety and quality of living rather than a survey about concessions. I am a Bridge Park resident and nightly starting around 7pm there is drag racing through downtown Dublin and Bridge Park streets and high speed/tire squealing through public parking garages (library). It goes throughout the night waking myself and neighbors, which includes hard working professionals and families with school-age children. So rather than ask Dublin residents what they think about walking streets with booze in hand (which is always going to be a resounding yes)- survey residents' opinions on safety and livability in Downtown Dublin and Bridge Park. That is the survey that will give back to the City.

Many suburbs are doing it and I think it brings great business. However, Dublin DORA hours seem so much shorter than other suburbs' hours, which will limit business especially among families. For example, Creekside (Gahanna) and Powell are throughout some weekdays and the weekend, and include earlier daytime hours so families with children can enjoy it.

I pay too much rent to deal with drunk people constantly going beyond the boundaries. The new one is people walking across the bridge with drinks. Clearly says not to and people still do it. I have watched Dublin police walk right by people and not say a thing so of course everyone thinks it's ok to do. I can not wait to move out of Dublin. Worst decision thinking that was clearly led by Crawford.

There are children in my building including my own. Thank you.

The Key indicates that the signs will be RED. "DO NOT PASS" should be red and not green. Essentially there are green symbols everywhere (that you would assume mean "go" according to signage but they mean "not permitted." Very confusing. Also, the light green/yellow icon on the key says "Served here" which makes no sense because those establishments allow alcohol but do not serve it. The light green/yellow one should say "alcohol allowed/not served". There is no consistency with how these symbols are used. And it's as if no one proofed this process before getting everything printed and installed. These need to be remedied.

Now, if you're on the bridge park side, there's not very much walking area or seating area to allow time to get even close to finishing your drink, so it makes it kind of awkward. I think if there was a chance to explore both sides it would allow the cool feature to be used
120	Resident - live in Dublin	Murfield	more than 3 times	Yes, I liked the DORA	Very Important	Yes, I was aware of the boundaries	Too few	Too short	Not Important	I did not notice the signs	I don't understand certain hours for DORA. It it's working and approved, it should be available all the time like in other areas. Bridge St has turned out to be such a nice area and better than I thought when I heard the initial plans. It's also time to take down the distancing signs. They are ugly and if people are uncomfortable being in crowded areas, Bridge Street really isn't a good idea for them anyway.

It made coming downtown even more attractive and enjoyable. I hope DORA continues and I would live for it to have longer hours on Saturday and Sunday, especially in the summer.

There's a total of 15 hours out of 72 available to enjoy this amenity to the community, and I feel as though most people who work a normal day job aren't going out on Thursday, won't go out on Friday until later in the evening only giving them few hours to participate. Saturday is arguably the only day that a normal, working class citizen of Dublin is able to utilize this.
126	Resident - live in Dublin	River Forest	1-2 times	Yes, I liked the DORA	Neutral	No, I was not aware of the boundaries	Just right	Just right	Important	I did not notice the signs	We participated today in Dublin Irish Days and had a beverage with us while standing on the sidewalk enjoying the music on stage at about 2:30 PM near Sweetwater Cafe'. We were dismayed to be very rudely approached by someone from Sweetwater's who insisted we must take two meager steps forward on the sidewalk as we were on "our patio does not support the DORA". We were NOT on anyone's patio, using anyone's tables or otherwise, but standing on a city sidewalk for which our exorbitant tax dollars paid. Appalled by her rude approach, we will never patronize that establishment because of it. Had we been actually on the premises or attempting to sit on what was actually their patio, understandable. But seriously coming out, sitting down at a table and watching to be sure we remained literally two steps forward from where we were originally standing was absolutely uncalled for. I say all or nothing. Either 100% support of the initiative by all Business owners or no DORA so that expectations are clear and so that community members can truly enjoy the offering without being treated by some business owners/ employees as a nuisance. Thanks for the opportunity to provide feedback. It was otherwise a great festival experience & we thank the City of Dublin for your efforts!

Groups of individuals were walking and drinking beverages along Post Road heading westbound. I also witnessed instances of public urination along this road and another individual stumbling and vomiting close to the bridge over I270. I believe that the DORA is difficult to enforce and negatively impacts the safety and image of our community.

Green means go not stop, signage should be red. Further, these boundaries are not enforced and numerous people are taking alcohol over the bridge. The fact that something as serious as where alcohol can be consumed is not taken seriously by Dublin police or city council shows how little they actually care about enforcing local laws, and is the reason there is an increase of rowdy teenagers in areas where they shouldn't be, as well as dangerous driving in the area. Don't have rules you're not going to enforce its make city council and the police look stupid.

Dublin City Council
City of Dublin
5555 Perimeter Drive
Dublin, Ohio 43017

Dear Council Members;

We are writing on behalf of Downtown Dublin's Hospitality Industry – its restaurants, hotels and retail establishments. We are truly appreciative of Dublin City Council's support of our industry over the past 18 months through safety measures, extended patios/dining, marketing and the creation of the Pilot Program for the Designated Outdoor Refreshment Area (DORA).

There has been a tremendous positive impact to Downtown Dublin since the launch of DORA in May. Restaurants have seen an increase in sales ranging from 15 – 65 percent during DORA on Thursday-Saturday. More importantly, we've seen a tremendous increase in new visitation from Dublin and central Ohio residents and out-of-town visitors. There is no question that DORA has helped raise awareness of Downtown Dublin as a world-class destination. Informal surveys with customers have also revealed that not only are they enjoying DORA but would like to extend the hours and days to enjoy and drive additional economic impact and awareness to the area.

The Downtown Dublin Hospitality Industry respectfully requests that DORA is extended beyond the Pilot Program starting this September and available year-round during the following hours:

Monday - Friday 4 p.m. - 10 p.m.
Saturday 9 a.m. - 10 p.m.
Sunday 12 p.m. - 10 p.m.

We thank you again for your ongoing support and leadership. Don't hesitate to contact us if you have any questions. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Scott Dring

Dublin OH Review of DORA

Since the DORA was first introduced to Dublin residents in February 2020, Zencity has tracked over 3,200 social media interactions about the DORA. As you can see in the chart below, Dublin residents expressed 18X more support for the DORA in the last seven months than negativity - demonstrating that the DORA was a consistent source of positivity and pride for Dublin residents. Many residents expressed their excitement about the DORA through supportive posts online even going so far as to thank the local government for this opportunity.

The largest amount of discourse about the DORA occurred in late May when the DORA was opened to the public, and around the Memorial Golf Tournament, when a popular post about the DORA was posted on Instagram. Nevertheless, people continued to discuss and remained positive about the DORA throughout the summer.

This high level of continued positive engagement around the DORA suggests that it has been a very successful addition to the lives of Dublin Ohio residents.
